ICHS in the Community

ICHS reaches beyond the doctor's office, deep into communities and where people live, learn, work, play and pray, to positively influence wellness.

Working Together

ICHS works with community-based partners to create a strong network of care.

- Food banks provide food bags at our clinics to meet immediate food insecurity issues
- Affordable housing facilities support health education and health literacy programs
- Early childhood and Healthy Start programs increase health care access and meet family/parent educational needs
- Senior services programs promote healthy eating and active living
- Civic engagement programs encourage voter registration, education and engagement
